

Tubetech's First-Ever Employee Announces Retirement

East Palestine Native Played Key Sales Role on Major Accounts

East Palestine, OH – Having recently completed her 19th year as a Tubetech employee, Patricia A. McCormick has announced her plans to retire at the end of September.

As Tubetech's first employee, Patty rose to become Sales Manager and was involved with many of Tubetech's major accounts. Prior to working at Tubetech, Patty was with Tubetech's predecessor company Roshel Industries and M&W Electric.

When Patty's husband, John was transferred to Akron in 1990, Patty worked from an office in her new home in Cuyahoga Falls. Although commonplace in the work world today, this innovative approach of retaining an important and dedicated employee was very unusual at this time.

"This commitment to continuity of responsiveness to the market place and Patty's needs would not have been successful without Patty's continued nurturing of relationships and her integrity for the job responsibility" said Steve Oliphant CEO & President. "We wish Patty health and happiness as she embarks on the next phase of her life. She will be missed and we thank her for the many years of dedicated service to Tubetech".

Patty's responsibilities will be assumed by Jon Roscow, Vice President of Sales and Rick Downey, currently Materials Manager who will also serve as Sales Manager.

As Patty embarks on the next phase of her life and has the opportunity for more time for travel with her husband and five grandchildren. Join all of us at Tubetech in recognizing her contributions to the success of the company and our best wishes for good health and happiness in retirement.

Based in East Palestine, Ohio, Tubetech produces Electric Welded Steel Tubing primarily for automobiles and appliances within the United States, Canada, and Mexico.
